

Thoughts to Ponder

Building A New Tomorrow

January 2008

You have said goodbye to the year 2007, and all its trials and challenges are behind you. January is always a month of new beginnings. It is a fresh page in your book of life. See its shiny whiteness and ask yourself what you want to fill it with. Its content is very much up to you, for what this page reveals depends largely upon the hopes you have, the belief you have in the fulfillment of those hopes, and the choices you make,

Of course the promise of the new year also depends partly on the thoughts and consciousness of the masses, which affect all mankind. The subtle effect of mass thinking can make a strong impression on individual thought patterns. But remember, each individual has input in this mass consciousness, which is built of your attitude, words, actions and intentions, fired by passion and belief. Each of you is powerful in your ability to impact this pool of influence. If you desire change, then do your part to build a new consciousness for mankind. It can be done, one person at a time.

Humanity's perceptions are already changing. People are becoming more tolerant, more open-minded, more caring. The snowball effect of this change is reflected in the change in attitudes of the mass consciousness, and vice versa. Mass consciousness can control you, or you can control mass consciousness. So you can see how important it is for a person to think for himself and maintain his own integrity, regardless of what others are thinking.

You have the power to create your own world, the situation in which you live, for the universe is always ready to support your decisions. But you also have the power to help create a better world for all. It is the people, individually, that can bring about change. The year 2008 has an impressive field of possibilities in the ethers, awaiting the choices that will bring them into manifestation. Bright hopes, intense focus, with faith behind it, can bring great expectations into the field of possibilities that the universe is holding for your future. The choices you make, each and every one of them, carry a lot of weight in creating the world you want to live in.

Each person's influence helps to build the blueprint for tomorrow's world. You can be a constructive influence in creating a world of integrity, caring, brotherhood and joy. Each productive choice you make counteracts an inappropriate choice made by another. When more positive thoughts or actions go into the ethers than negative, the creative process for good goes into action. For the impact on all humanity is altered. The influence of mass consciousness then turns to the light. It could begin with you.

The world that lies ahead can be repetitive of the world you now know. Or there can be a new world in your near future, a world with no war, no hatred, no prejudice, no manipulation. This is the world you can create for yourselves. It will be a world reminiscent of the Garden of Eden with pure air, clear blue skies, lush plants and trees, and best of all, it will be filled with love, harmony, and joy! It is already in the ethers. Smile, retain that smile, and watch it happen!

Dawn of The Promise

Rejoice, rejoice, sing and rejoice!
The day of peace is come.
When love has filled the hearts of men and every soul is one.

The promise of the Christ unfolds,
and joy again is born.
For Earth and man have shed their shroud,
and hearts no longer mourn.

The Light has reached into the heart
of all who kept the faith,
and light has haloed all the Earth,
illumined every race.

Look through the darkness, see the dawn
light up the morning sky,
and watch the sun as it ascends,
and know that God is nigh.
