

Molding My World

My world is but a crystal ball reflecting patterns of my thought.
It's up to me to make the call to manifest my dreams or not.

When I am feeling full of joy,
with gratitude within my soul,
my thoughts and senses will reflect the visions that create my goal.

But if I play the victim role
and send my doubts into the world,
reflected back within my soul,
my fears and dreads will be unfurled.

So when I plant the seeds of peace
and love, of joy and harmony,
my crystal globe will then respond
and send these treasures back to me.

How broad is your focus? Are your dreams and desires centered on your future in this lifetime?

What if today were your last day as the entity you call yourself in this life? Would those dreams be of any importance? What of the dreams you had in your last lifetime? Or the one before, or those centuries back? Are they of any importance to you today? Why are you limiting your desires to so fleeting a time? Why not focus on the ETERNAL NOW. Find the beauty in the now. Expect beauty in eternity. Dream your dreams, but outpicture your future as continuous into infinity. Would those dreams change?

Now is the time to create your future in the next world, for it will be in line with your consciousness. How do you see yourself in that new world? What traits and characteristics to you want to take with you? What traits would you like to leave behind? Which traits are you developing as you live your life now? Your world after this life, as with your world in this time, will be in synchrony with your consciousness.

By focusing on raising your consciousness, you can increase the joy, health, and abundance both in your now world and in your world to come.

So how does one raise one's consciousness? First, look at your priorities. Are they all based on what you desire now in your present situation? If so, it is time to broaden them. Your future is infinite. You need to build a foundation that will serve you into infinity. Will the things you are striving for be of value to you a hundred years from now? If you can say yes, then you are on your way to a higher consciousness.

Now what are the building blocks for this rise in consciousness? Let us consider thoughts, words, and actions.

Do your thoughts and words come from the mind or from the heart? If they come from the heart, they are from a basis of love. Love is your essence, and it abides in the heart. It is the hu part of the word human. Hu is an ancient word for God. You are a godman, or an expression of God. (Man in this reference, is neither masculine nor feminine but refers to mankind.) So when you are expressing God's love and light, you are in a high state of consciousness. And when you love and support your brothers and sisters sharing this Earth, you are not only nurturing them but you are preparing yourself to advance to a world based on love, a bountiful world filled with joy in which you are free to explore your new environment and the vast universe, while always before you is the chance to enter higher and higher realms.

You cannot even imagine the wonders that await you, for there is nothing in this Earth experience to compare with what lies before you, the future that awaits you. There will be no judgment declaring that you have or haven't deserved the right to enter a higher realm. It will simply be a matter of whether the frequency you are vibrating at is in sync with the vibration of the realm you are approaching. If it is not, you would be unable to tolerate the frequency. Your vibratory frequency will depend upon your choices and your perception of who you are. If you recognize your essence and choose to live in a way that expresses God/Love, your consciousness and your vibrations will rise. You will then have a clearer picture of what you want to accomplish and where to set your goals.

Now is the time when mankind has a unique opportunity to advance. Life revolves in cycles, and you are now in the threshold of a new age, the Age of Aquarius. Not only Earth and the humanity populating her, but your entire universe are going through a period of change. The opportunity available in this circumstance is unique to those incarnated at this time, as you have a greater support from the Heavens, due to planetary alignment, and the power to mold the field of possibilities that this new age presents to mankind at this point in Earth's history.

Each of you has the power to create, and by the submission of your will to God's will, the future for all will have a beautiful unfolding. For God's will is always for your highest good. Therefore, it is time to recognize the power that you have as an expression of the God Force. Make the choice to form the world of your future the way The Creator intended it to be. Realize that it was you who chose to see yourselves as separate from the Prime Creator who has never seen itself as separate from you, for it dwells within every living thing. The gift of free will has, in a sense, backfired for you, as you chose to see yourself as something other than an individual expression of the God Force. You backed away from using its power within you and instead followed the guidance of the ego you created in its stead.

Now is the time to review all the choices you have made. Which ones brought you happiness? Which ones do you regret? Release the ones that brought you or others grief and let them go. They were simply learning experiences for you and for them. They do not belong in your now. You always have the opportunity to choose again. Align yourself with the wisdom of your heart and change your world.

Thoughts to Ponder

maryjean77@cox.net

2

