

Thoughts to Ponder

April Showers

April 2009

www.jeanwarner.com

There is a saying: April showers bring May flowers. Sometimes the showers seem to be a great inconvenience and we try to wish them away. But oh how we love those flowers in May!

Let us consider what showers provide. They clean the air and fill it with ozone. They bathe the ground and gift it with hydrogen peroxide. They bring pools of fresh water for thirsty animals, birds, and humans, and yes, they bring May flowers. They contain great promise of things to come.

At this time in our history the showers seem to have gotten out of hand in many places on the globe. They are appearing as floods, hurricanes, tornadoes, quakes, and volcanic action. This may appear to be an ominous threat, and to some it has been deadly. However, the cleansing by water, fire, and wind foretells a future of light and love and prosperity. For the old has to be brought down for the new to materialize.

This April we see Mother Earth being drenched with the cleansing of eons of negative energy that has almost left her barren of life-giving food and water and stifled by contaminated air. It is the dark energy being released that brings the promise of a new world. The endless suffering mankind has endured is evidence that the old structures of societies have not worked. The old mindsets of war, competition, and self-serving enterprises have to be washed clean and replaced with kindness and concern for the family of mankind.

Understand that millions of volunteers have incarnated on Earth at this time to take part in the cleansing, to give their lives, if necessary, in order to transmute the darkness into light. We are seeing the transmutation taking place. As people are drawn together out of despair and uncertainty, arising out of the chaos are waves of compassion and caring for one another. We see a rallying of determination to make things better, not only for ourselves but for others as well. Humanity is discovering the value of unity. We note united efforts everywhere to save lives or homes and businesses of others. New values and greater understanding and empathy are emerging from the turmoil. It is all part of the awakening foretold by the ancients.

This is not the first time planets have been in peril brought on by greed, and power seeking individuals, as well as by the passiveness of the masses.

However, we are seeing the rainbow above the flooding waters. People are waking up to the error of their ways in dealing with life. They are recognizing the control which some of the hierarchies of the financial world has had on them and the greed-fed fraud, manipulation, and duplicity those controlling forces have freely exercised world-wide. Tens of thousands are rising up and saying, ENOUGH! In massive numbers they are fighting to take back their planet and to restore the values of peace, love, and integrity. The balance is leaning more and more to the power of the light.

Now is the time for patience and faith. The flowering May baskets of love and upliftment are being fashioned in the ethers, waiting to be delivered when there is enough love to fill them. Our

Thoughts to Ponder

maryjean77@cox.net

grandmothers remember the joy of delivering and receiving these lovely baskets of spring when they were children. The baskets were filled with daffodils, iris, and other early bloomers. Perhaps these beautiful May Day gestures will once again replace the Mayday calls heard around the world in this time of trials. Know that the May festivals are coming. Soon these days of tribulation will be over. A new world awaits us. A new life is reaching out to us. Rejoice and be glad that you are living in this period of wondrous change.

Hark to the Call

The call to waken now goes out.
It's time to dance, it's time to shout.
Let every heart with joy now sing.
At last we are awakening.

The age of darkness fades away.
More light creeps in each dawning day.
Its rays spread out o'er all the land.
The power of love is now at hand.

And every being here on Earth will feel the joy of its rebirth, for every life will soon expand as Holy Light now bathes the land.

The trees and flowers and wild life too will heed the call and hearken to the urge to let go of the past and bask anew in Light at last.

As anger, hate, and pain then fade into the shadows. Unafraid, we will emerge from out the night and be resplendent in the Light.