

Thoughts to Ponder

Cosmic Fireworks during July

July 2007

July 2007 is fairly crackling with energies of change. They will provide a golden gateway to a new Earth of love, light, peace, and harmony. The dark days of the past are coming to an end. You are about to graduate, if you so choose. No longer must you live in darkness. The forces of darkness will not survive on Earth, as the New Earth is to be filled with light. Each of you must choose whether you want to go with the Light or remain in a world of duality. There will be no judgment. You have free will.

Some who want to dominate and control may choose to join the forces of darkness. There will be a place provided for those who do.

Others may enjoy the drama of combating the dark while not being a part of it. Their wishes too will be adhered to.

Many have chosen to live in the Light. They may have made this choice on a soul level, not a conscious level, and are unaware of it. . Making the choice to evolve into the Light is the first step. Raising your vibrations to the point that you can live in a higher frequency is the next step. There are many dimensions in the universe, each with its own frequency. So in the end, it is the frequency in which you vibrate that determines what dimension you can enter. You will be magnetically drawn into the dimension that matches yours. Like attracts like.

If you choose to remain in the dark, or in a world of duality, your choice will be allowed with no chastisement or punishment, but you must remember the law of cause and effect and be prepared to accept the unwanted effects of situations created by your own inappropriate thoughts and feelings.

Life provides learning situations for individual growth, and before you came into this life, you got to decide what you wished to learn and what situations you felt would generate the opportunities necessary for your learning. All paths lead back to the Father; the time is up to you. How fast you evolve depends upon your choices. You are always loved and are never alone.

So first you set your goal, and then you align yourself with it. If you want to live in the Light, then be the Light that you truly are. Let us start with love. First, love yourself. Recognize your divinity. When you radiate love, you bring love into your life.

You are an offshoot of the God Source. Within you are the attributes of love, compassion, peace and harmony. Each of these characteristics that you develop draws others with that virtue to you.

Living in love, harmony, and gratitude, brings joy into your life. Joy uplifts you. It raises your consciousness. Keep your thoughts joyous, for as your joy expands; your consciousness grows, and your vibratory frequency rises. As your frequency rises, you are drawn into a matching dimension. So, you see, your light determines your level in the Heavenly Realms. Your path winds ever upward. Mother Earth has chosen to go into the 5th dimension. You can choose to go with her.

Whatever your goal, know that you can always ask for help from the Father or the thousands of light beings—guides, angels, archangels, and ascended Masters—who are serving Him. They are more than willing to help you reach your goal. Call upon them whenever needed. You are all one and one with your Source.

The connection with your Source has never been broken. When mankind chose to go-it-alone, so to speak, he felt that he had disconnected himself from God and considered himself to be a separate entity. That did not make it so. All living beings are part of the Prime Source. Mankind simply withdrew his energy from it and thereby greatly weakened that connection. Man was, however, allowed to make his own choices and suffer the consequences of the inappropriate ones, all for his growth and evolvment. After eons of living with consequences that made life difficult, he is finally realizing that he is a part of the God Force and that life was much easier when he allowed the Spirit of the Father within him to guide him. He is beginning to see the light. And the Light has been there all along.

As more and more are realizing that they need God's help, the Heavens have opened up. Love and Light are pouring forth to heal the wounds of past experiences. In this exciting month of July 2007 in the Age of Aquarius, great changes are in the wind. On the seventh—7-7-7—a great shift will sweep across the Earth, awakening, transforming, realigning all living things. The Harmonic Shift 777 is a midpoint in a period of transformational energy to free you from the chains of your miscreations over the eons of time.

Again, on July 17, a great surge of transforming energy will descend on Earth. This will bring a recognition of your connection to your Source and to each other. All are connected through a system you might call a grid system. It is an energy grid. When you accept the powerful surge of energy with gratitude and thanksgiving, you will help to fire the grid, bringing about an activation and a great awakening and transformation to Mother Earth and all her occupants.

You may join others by adding your energies and intentions, allowing the awakening to the truth of your connection. July 17 at 11:11 a.m. Greenwich Time (4:11 AZ time) is the day and time this surge of energy is scheduled. Spend an hour sending out positive thoughts and feelings, by meditation or prayer, listening to music, or whatever brings you a feeling of love, peace and harmony. Perhaps you will want to combine these activities. Set your intentions to bring healing to the Earth and unconditional love to all living things upon the planet. You may participate individually or in groups. If you do it individually, you will not be alone. You will be connecting with millions of others doing the same. So either way, it will be a mass participation. Make it a joyous hour.

The awakening will be ongoing. These coming events are part of the Divine Plan for mankind's evolution and return to the Light. So even though at times it might seem otherwise, this will be a month to celebrate.

The Gift

He taught us that we are Divine,
and through his works, displayed the power
innate to children of our God.
He told us that this might is our true heritage. For we, like him, are children of a power so great,
so full of love, He would instill
in every child that He creates,
a spark of His divinity.

Christ said that when we learn that we are One with God and all that lives,
we would do greater works than he.

Displaying but a portion of the power he held within his hand,
the Christ, expressing his great love,
taught only what we'd understand.
But now we've grown. The time has come for us to claim the God within,
to use the power inborn in us,
and know that we are part of Him.

Two thousand years have passed since Christ revealed his message to the world.
He taught of love, eternal life,
and so our consciousness unfurled.
And now he waits to welcome us
as we emerge from dark of night
and, reaching out with open arms,
return once more into the Light.
