The Ascended Masters are telling us to keep our peace and maintain a rosy demeanor no matter what appears to be threatening our world's stability. Things are about to happen, they say, and it is vitally important that we stay grounded, calm, and balanced. This week we were given an orange alert regarding the situation in Yellowstone, Montana, and the Pacific Northwest. It appeared that things were about to blow in that area, and we can help soften it. There are many off-planet beings monitoring the situation, but they must be given permission to intercede, as they cannot interfere with the free will of mankind unless asked to do so.

When events are threatening large populations, it might take multiple requests for intercession to offset the intentions of those whose negative thoughts, words, and actions are creating the chaos. But keep in mind, they are in the minority. Our positive thoughts can offset the negative. Prayers from the masses can effect divine intervention if it is for the highest good of all.

We can also call upon St. Germain to use the Violet Flame to transmute the negativity that is shooting forth from the Earth in many places. For Mother Earth is releasing her pain and sorrows that have congregated through eons of time. They need to be released, yet that pain can come forth in the form of explosive energy producing fire, wind, floods, and volcanic action. Ask that it be transmuted into neutral energies, and fill the empty spaces with your love. We, too, are releasing, and that energy as well is contributing to the murkiness of the atmosphere around us. We also can call upon the Violet Flame to neutralize these spirals of energy so that they will not contaminate the environment.

The fear mongers may be exercising their own free will, by manifesting disasters through intent. Striking fear among the masses is their means of control. For what one fears can attract the fearful situation in accordance with the law of magnetic attraction. Mass fear, therefore, is dangerous and must be countered. We must not give in to fear! Our prayers may achieve permission for the servants of God on the other side of the veil to intercede. And through positive thoughts and attitudes, we can help to calm the waters. Fear engenders fear, but serenity breeds serenity.

We are living in a time of great changes. It is a time of tribulation that in the long run will engender positive effects. The chaotic conditions we are confronting have been prophesied by the ancients and carried in memory by many indigenous peoples. The hidden prophesies are being exposed, and much more will come to light. Even modern-day prophets have told us of trials and tribulations to be endured in order to bring forth a beautiful new world of love and light. But prophecy is based on probabilities shaped by past history and present consciousness of humanity. It is subject to change. An uplifting of human consciousness is the magic that will turn the corner. For have not prophesies of a new world, a glorious world, also been predicted? And The Father has ordained that this will be the case for those who have chosen to join the forces of Light. For many it has been a subconscious choice, which does not make it any less viable.

The best way to eradicate the forces of darkness is to bring them into the light. This can be accomplished by love and compassion for all, and that should be our aim. Let your light shine, no matter how chaotic the world may seem. Be an example of peace and joy. However, we must accept the probability that many will choose to remain in the lower realm. They will have other opportunities in the future, for all will eventually be gathered in.

Mankind has reached a turning point! You can see it happen day by day. People have had their fill of wars, of tyranny, of manipulative control! They are rising up and saying enough! They are realizing that we all are connected. We are all children of the same creator who sees us all as equal. We are beginning to realize our power and are joining together in unity to change our world, not by violence but by peaceful cooperation.

The goal for all of us is to keep our minds on the new world to come and allow the chaotic conditions to fade into the background. We have been controlled for eons by the dark world of the Illuminate, as they call themselves, who have permeated all governments throughout the Earth. This is soon to change, as they will all be exposed and, unless they change their perspectives, will fade away. Their last great efforts to promote wars, suppress the populations, and promote their own welfare will be in vain. For mankind is awakening to the truth. Awareness is filtering through the darkness we have been entrapped in, and a beautiful world is on the horizon.

Now is the time to focus on that truth. Be serene in the knowledge of it. Look only for the joy in life. When you are feeling down, go forth and visit nature. Take time to study the sky, commune with the trees and talk to the plants. Bless Mother Earth for her bounty. And allow a positive energy to unfold and grace the path before you. Just by trusting the Divine Plan for mankind and letting our light shine around us we can crush the dark agendas of those who are determined to maintain control. It is most important that we retain an atmosphere of peace, love, and light.

The turbulence is nearing an end. It will happen sooner than you think, so long as we do not regress into a state of despair and dim the light of our consciousness. The positive energy we emanate can do much to save the Earth and every living thing. For the dark cannot withstand the light. Through prayers, joyful expectancy, and powerful intent, we can bring forth the world of our dreams, for it is just around the corner.
